06 June 24

Dear Parent,

I am writing to you to update you on the current progress with year 11 and their GCSE exams. So far, 22 GCSE exams have taken place in a range of subjects. Students have been excellent in their approach and have taken this challenge firmly in their stride. However, we still have a number of high-profile exams left to sit and the best place for students to revise is with their teachers who have the ability to inform and guide students on the possible topics and themes that may come up in the exams.

Students will not be required to stay in school after an exam from Monday 10th June. This is classed as study leave though there are still exams for Science, humanities and technology based subjects. Teachers will provide students with revision activities and information that will ensure students are well prepared.

Lessons will continue to run as timetabled until the 10th June. Following this date, study sessions and top tips sessions will still be available. Arrangements for these extra sessions will be shared with your child via the subject teacher. It is important that if your child is in school for a reason other than an exam, they must sign in on arrival and sign out when they leave, this is for health and safety purposes. A black folder will be placed in student reception so that they can do this swiftly.

We hope you will encourage your child to access the support on offer by continuing to encourage them to take full advantage of the available sessions by being present in school.

Yours sincerely

S Finan
Assistant Principal
